

New Studentweb at NTNU

You log on to Studentweb the same way as before even though the log in page looks different. You can use Feide (username and password issued from NTNU) or your 11 digit id number and pin code.

The screenshot shows the Studentweb login page. At the top left is a hamburger menu icon. At the top right is a language dropdown menu set to "English". Below the menu is the Studentweb logo, which consists of a stylized "S" and "T" in a red and black circle, followed by the text "Studentweb" and "Norwegian University of Science and Technology". A dashed horizontal line separates the header from the main content area. The main content area is divided into two columns. The left column has the heading "Log on using Feide" and the Feide logo (the word "FEIDE" in red with a red circle around the "I"). Below the logo is the text "Feide is the chosen solution of the Department of Education for secure identification in the education sector" and a link "Log on using Feide". The right column has the Feide logo and the text "Users from Norwegian universities and colleges". Below this is a box containing the text "Norwegian ID number and PIN". At the bottom of the page is a footer with the text "Studentweb 3.2.0.2 - 26.08.2015 12:22" and a link "Read about our usage of cookies." with a close icon.

The page you enter after login will vary based on the period we are in. In the semester registration period, you will be asked to complete semester registration. You also get an overview of important notices regarding the current semester. If you log out of Studentweb before you have completed the whole process, information you have already registered will be saved until next time you log in.

The screenshot shows the Studentweb interface for the Norwegian University of Science and Technology. At the top, there is a navigation bar with a menu icon, the language set to 'English', and a user profile icon. Below the navigation bar, the Studentweb logo and name are displayed. A message states: 'You have not started the registration for AUTUMN 2015 yet.' A prominent green button labeled 'Start registration' is centered below the message. Underneath, a 'Notices (2)' section contains two critical notices, each with a red warning icon. The first notice says: 'CRITICAL You have not completed the semester registration Autumn 2015. If you wish to do something about it, follow this link.' The second notice says: 'CRITICAL The semester fee has not been paid Autumn 2015. For more information click on Payment. If you wish to do something about it, follow this link.'

When you start the semester registration you get an overview of the different steps you have to go through to complete the semester registration.

Studentweb presents your individual education plan in two different tabs. The tab «Education plan» is where you register for courses and exams within your individual education plan. The tab «Status and overview» gives you an overview of all courses that are added to your plan, both scheduled and passed courses.

Updating your profile is the last step of the semester registration on Studentweb. It is very important that you keep your contact information updated at all time to ensure that you receive relevant information from us. You should also register your preferred NTNU Library, election affiliation (if you are connected to more than one department), and whether or not you allow NTNU to use your picture for your digital student ID.

Your profile update is part of the semester registration but you can make changes in your profile at any time.

You will find the main menu at the top of the page. Your display will vary depending on the device you use (computer, smart phone etc.).

A screenshot of the Studentweb main menu. The menu is a vertical list of items: 'Studies', 'My courses', 'Results', 'Documents', and 'Payments'. Each item has a red arrow pointing to a corresponding explanatory text block on the right. At the bottom of the menu, there are radio buttons for 'Show earlier semesters' and 'Hide e'. Below the menu, a blue bar shows '2015 AUTUMN'.
