

Digital conduction of defence (trial lecture only on-line)

A template suggesting agenda and information to be given by the administrator.

This is based on the memo: "Spesifisering av retningslinjer for digital doktorgradsprøve ved IE fakultetet under koronavirusutbruddet", and it is assumed that at least the opponents and some from the public are connected via two-way communication.

Be particularly aware that the opponents, and anyone else that are not present physically, have to speak to be seen by others.

Committee meeting to conclude about the trial lecture

Since the assessment committee must deem the trial lecture as passed before the defence, a meeting should be held in addition to or in combination with the premeeting for testing the digital communication system.

Based on the uploaded online version of the trial lecture, the committee should discuss it and should also prepare for the text to be included in the "PhD Result" document (point 5. Assessment of the trial lecture).

At this meeting, the committee may also prepare for the text of the final assessment of the thesis that should be in the "PhD Result" document.

3. About the program and questions from the audience

Before the candidate starts presenting his/her thesis, I will give some practical information. After the presentation, there will be a 10-minute break before the opponents start their questioning of the candidate. When the committee has finished asking questions, we will open for questions from the audience. However, I need to know who will ask questions the latest during the break (or before any other specified time). You should use the Instant message to notice me that you have a question to ask later by word or you may ask the question directly in the message. (Optional, if available by the applied platform:) You may also notify that you have a question by clicking "raise hand".

(It is recommended to present on PowerPoint the details about how the public should notice their questions and by when.)
